Activity Itinerary

Day - Day 1: Journey from Dehradun to Sankri

Description: -

-[illegible] stops

As the sun rises over Dehradun, a city brimming with charm, eager trekkers gather, accompanied by our seasoned guides, all set for the adventure ahead. Our journey begins as we depart towards the starting point of our trek – Sankri. Along the winding roads,we're treated to breathtaking vistas of the majestic mountains, with the Tons river flowing alongside, a constant companion on our voyage.

Nestled within the Govind Pashu Vihar National Park, Sankri sits at an altitude of 1950 meters, beckoning with its picturesque allure and well-appointed amenities. After a 10 to 11-hour drive, punctuated by pit stops for lunch and refreshments, we finally arrive at the tranquil village of Sankri.

Upon reaching Sankri, we check into our pre-arranged hotel or resort. A sumptuous dinner awaits, providing a welcome respite from the day's journey, allowing everyone to unwind and prepare for the upcoming trek. For those inclined, Sankri offers opportunities for exploration, with its quaint village charm and friendly locals. Take a leisurely stroll through the village streets, perusing the local crafts, sampling homemade delicacies, and immersing yourself in the indigenous culture.

Before retiring for the night, our trek leader briefs us on the itinerary for the next day's adventure. With anticipation in the air, we settle into our cozy beds, ready to embark onthe exhilarating journey that lies ahead

Day Day 2: Sankri to Dharkot via Drive and then trek to Seema Village

Description: -

-[illegible] trails.
deer streams.

After a hearty breakfast, our journey takes us from Sankri to Dharkoat village, with an early start to make the most of the day. Along the way, travelers are treated to a scenic drive through dense forests and picturesque water streams cascading down the roads. The route passes through the culturally rich village of Dhatmeer, where the air is filled with the melodious chirping of birds, including rare mountain species like the Himalayan Monal, Uttarakhand's state bird. Keep your eyes peeled for glimpses of the wilderness, as sightings of Leopards, barking deer, and other Himalayan fauna are not uncommon.

As we approach Dharkoat, the landscape transforms, offering stunning views of sprawling wild orchids and occasional patches of snow where sunlight struggles to penetrate. Upon arrival in Dharkoat, trekkers take a well-deserved break before embarking on a 4-kilometer trek to Seema. Although not a village itself, Seema serves as a vital shelter point for tourists on their journey.

The trek to Seema is an adventure in itself, featuring rocky terrain, traditional wooden bridges, and lush green trails flanked by the Supin river. Along the way, trekkers have the opportunity to encounter various mountain-dwelling animals and birds, adding to the thrill of the journey. Refreshing water streams dot the

Day Day 3: Trek from Seema to Boslo, covering a distance of 10 kilometers

Description: -

- [illegible] Bugyal Devsu and Mt. Black Peak.

Day 3 of your trek brings an exhilarating adventure as you journey from Seema to Boslo, covering a distance of 10 kilometers amidst stunning landscapes and natural wonders. Starting early in the morning after a hearty breakfast around 6 a.m., the trek initially takes you through Oslo village, situated across the Supin River, accessible via the picturesque Seema Bridge. Along the way, you'll traverse through lush meadows, cascading waterfalls, and a rich variety of flora and fauna, providing ample opportunities for breathtaking photos capturing the essence of the Himalayas. As you progress, you'll encounter the tranquil village of Osla, steeped in mythological lore and home to the ancient Someshwar Temple, reflecting the unique culture and customs of its inhabitants. Continuing onwards, the trail ascends, offering panoramic vistas of the Dhauladhar Range and glimpses of the Borasu Pass and Baspa Valley trails. Finally, the journey culminates at Kalkatidhar, a verdant meadow boasting unparalleled views of Bugyal Devsu and Mt. Black Peak, providing the perfect setting to rest and rejuvenate before the adventures that lie ahead. With each step, immerse yourself in the beauty and serenity of the Himalayas, creating memories to cherish for a lifetime.

Day Day 4: Trek from Boslo to Har Ki Dun and Maninda Lake, then back to Boslo (12 km each way)

Description: -

Day 4 of your trek begins with an early start, as it's the longest leg of the journey. After a hearty breakfast, you'll set off to explore the breathtaking landscapes. The trail leads into the glacier basin, adorned with mountain meadows and pine trees. As you ascend, the views only get more spectacular. The path gradually climbs to the intersection of the Supin River and the River from the Ruinsara Valley, offering stunning vistas of the surrounding mountains. Along the way, you'll encounter icy snow patches and snow-covered waterfalls, adding to the enchanting scenery. The Har Ki Dun Valley is a sight to behold, with its towering peaks and meandering streams. The trail culminates at the Har Ki Dun summit, offering panoramic views of Swargarohini I peak, Hata Peak, and Black Peak. After soaking in the beauty of the valley, you'll make your way to the serene Marinda Tal, nestled at an altitude of 3,970 meters. With Hatta and Swargarohini mountains as a backdrop, the lake presents a picturesque setting for a memorable experience. After exploring the valley and creating lasting memories, you'll return to the final campsite at Boslo, cherishing the moments of your unforgettable journey

Day Day 05: Trek from Boslo to Seema covering 10 km.

Description: -

- Enjoy the scenic trail from Boslo to Seema, passing over the mountains.

After a restful night at Boslo, trekkers wake up to the serene beauty of the mountains. Day 5 marks the return journey to Seema, beginning with an early morning trek. As they descend through the lush landscape, trekkers are treated to breathtaking views of the valley. The trail offers ample opportunities to admire the natural beauty and capture memorable moments. Packed lunches ensure that energy levels remain high throughout the trek. Upon reaching Seema, trekkers settle into the camp for the night. The camp provides a cozy and comfortable retreat amidst the stunning surroundings. As the day draws to a close, trekkers are encouraged to witness the mesmerizing sunset over the mountains, a sight not to be missed. Dinner is served at the camp, allowing trekkers to unwind and reflect on the day's adventures. With memories made and experiences cherished, trekkers prepare for another day of exploration in this enchanting valley..

Day Day 6: Trek from Seema to Dharkoat Village covering 4 km and then drive to Sankri.

Description: -

- camp

On Day 6 of your adventure, you'll embark on the final leg of your trek, trekking back from Seema to Dharkoat Village, covering a distance of 4 km. Along the way, immerse yourself in the beauty of dense forests and cherish the memories created during your journey. By afternoon, you'll arrive at Taluka, where you'll begin the drive back to the Sankri base camp. The 16 km drive from Dharkoat to Sankri offers picturesque views and serves as a perfect opportunity to reflect on your trekking experience. Upon reaching the Sankri base camp, you'll be welcomed with hot and delicious food, ensuring a satisfying end to your trekking adventure. Don't forget to capture every moment of this unforgettable journey as you bid farewell to the scenic landscapes and wilderness.

Day Day 7; Sankri to Dehradun Drop.

Description: -

On Day 7, it's time to bid farewell to the picturesque landscapes as we head back to Dehradun from Sankri, covering a distance of 210 km. The journey kicks off at 7 A.M., ensuring everyone's fueled up with tea, coffee, and biscuits for the road. Brace yourself for a long drive spanning approximately 8-9 hours, but rest assured, the scenic views along the way make it worthwhile. Anticipate arriving in Dehradun by 5 P.M., so plan your onward bookings for trains or flights accordingly. With memories cherished and adventures recounted, make sure your travel arrangements are sorted well in advance for a smooth transition back to reality.

+91 12345-67890

-

saroutdoor@gmail.com